6 Oct 75, Same Subject (COMPT 75-1360)

In accordance with your request for a brief description of CLINSTAT, the refinements to CLINSTAT, and a list of all equipment purchases intended for FY 1977, the following is submitted.

a. CLINSTAT is an Office of Medical Services (OMS) project programmed to provide OMS with computer-aided processing, evaluation, data analysis and presentation of clinical data. At the present time this is being accomplished here principally with the laboratory testing done as part of the Multiphasic Testing/Periodic Health Examination Program.

b. Refinement of the CLINSTAT program will enable us to include other activities which are not yet part of this system but which are an integral part of the OMS professional evaluation system and necessary to allow us to go operational. Specifically, it will enable us to include into the CLINSTAT data base a stand-alone medical history program, provide us with a diagnostic index, give us a capability for cross-tab evaluation of clinical and administrative data bases, provide us with physical examination findings, and allow for statistical analyses of the accumulated data. The net result will be a more comprehensive occupational and maintenance health program both qualitatively and quantitatively at minimal cost.
